My Everyday Cheat Sheet

VIM Startups

`vim -p[N]`	Open N tab pages.
`vim` file1 file2	Opens up files sequentially
`vim +` file	Open file at last line
`vim +n` file	Open file at line number n
`vim +/pattern` file	Open file at `pattern`
`vim -t` tag	look up tag and start editing at its defintion
`view` file	Open up file in read-only mode

quick and dirty git

`git clone` repo	clones repo in cur dir
`git status`	status of current repo, what has changed
`git init`	initializes a repo in current dir
`git config user.name` username	set username
`git config user.email` username@email.com	set email

i3 display hacks

`xrandr --output VGA1 --auto --right-of LVDS1`	extend 2nd display to right of 1st display
`xrandr --output VGA1 --auto --left-of LVDS1`	extend 2nd display to left of 1st display

i3 quick and dirty

`MOD-f`	enter fullscreen mode
`MOD-d`	access dmenu
`MOD-s`	stacked layout
`MOD-a`	focus parent
`MOD-e`	splith/splitv it toggles

Ctags

`ctags -R`	create tags file in current directory
`:set tags=tags`	Set tags of tag file in current directory in VIM

Python Command line hacks

`python -m SimpleHTTPServer`	creates a webserver on port 8000 ./ as root dir